NIGHTMARE ON EDGEWOOD

Tear-ifying Film Festival

The recent film festival celebrating cinematic horror was a great success but left the theater a bit of a mess. Pair up the fourteen ticket stubs scattered on the lobby floor to form the titles of seven classic horror films. When you rejoin the ticket halves you will notice that the titles are not quite complete. Each title is either missing one letter or two letters in a vertical column. Determine the missing parts of the titles and use the numbers on the tickets to order them left to right on the Special Screening card. The missing parts in proper order will form the title of a horror film from 1960 with an apt title—this title is the answer to the puzzle.
